Clay Is 1A in Draft

Louisville, Feb. 17 (AP) — The draft status of heavyweight champion Cassius Clay was changed today from 1-Y to 1-A, making him eligible for military service immediately.

Bottled Up

Ranger forward Bob Nevin (8) is bottled up by three Chicago defenders as goalie Glenn Hall deflects his shot last night in Garden. Black Hawks are Al McNeil (19), Elmer Vasko (4) and Stan Mikita (21). Hawks won, 5-2. See Jerry Mitchell on Page 84.

immediately.

However, there was no word on just when Clay would be called.

Local Board 47 deliberated for nearly two hours, and heard testimony from an attorney who said he represented Clay. He identified himself as Edward W Jacko Jr., New York.

Jacko declined to say whether the decision will be appealed.

"That hasn't been determined," he said.

Jacko said he hasn't determined any grounds for an appeal.

"I want to keep in confidence anything said before the board," he said.

If the decision is appealed, it would be heard by the Western Judicial Circuit Selective Service Appeal Board in Louisville.

Unanimous decision by the Appeal Board is final, but the classification could be appealed to Washington on a split decision.

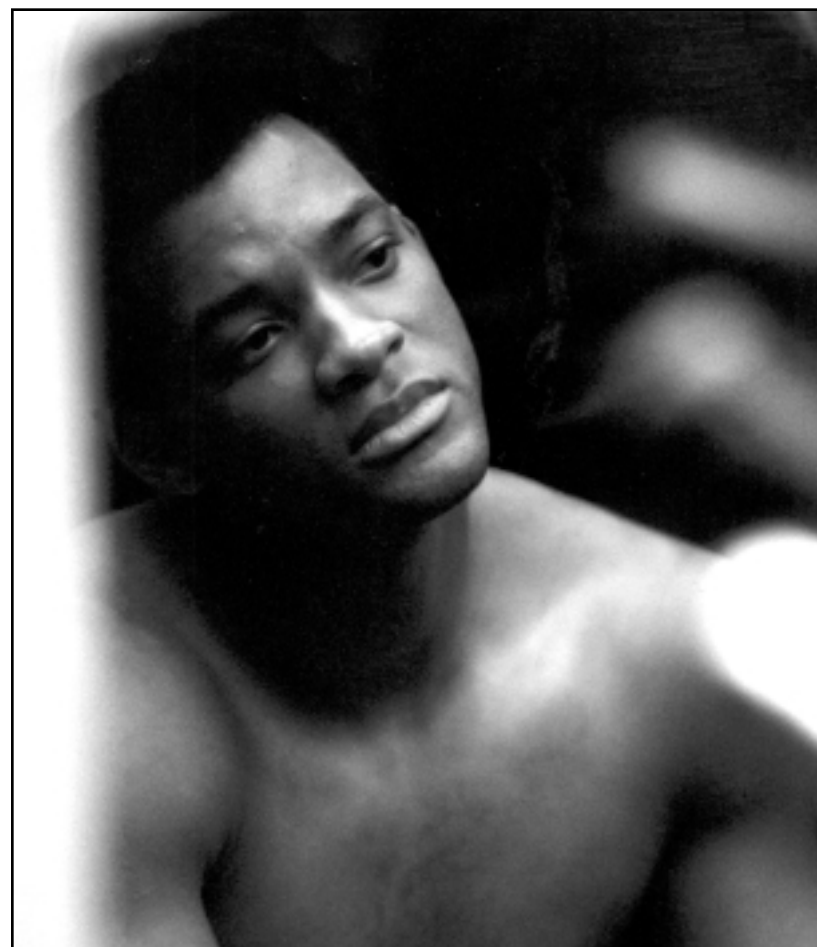

Clay has a March 29 title fight scheduled in Chicago against Ernie Terrell, recognized as champion by the World Boxing Assn.

In Chicago Ben Bentley, co-promoter of the Clay-Terrell fight, commented:

"We knew he was going into 1-A. What we're concerned about is when he's going in."

There was no immediate answer to that.

In Miami, Clay could not be reached but Angelo Dundee, his manager, said he did not know whether Clay would appeal.
