This World Premiere brings the epic conflict of the US Civil War to life through period music and the first-person writings of the men and women who lived through it. Alternately humorous, heartrending and horrific, the letters, memoirs and tales of the War Between the States cast history in a personal and accessible light. Confederate and Union, slave and widow, all take the stage to share an experience so profound that it leaves history books in the dust.

PRAISE FOR THEATRE BANSHEE'S RECENT PRODUCTIONS

RECOMMENDED

“...characters, whose passions, vulnerabilities and raw humanity are visceral and compelling.”

WEEKLY

CRITIC'S PICK

“This simple little production is fantastic... We don't want this play to end... This production succeeds on so many levels.”

BACK STAGE WEST

“director Sean Brannney's crackling new production is a winner... debilitating and inexplicably funny.”
